Port of Astoria Tenant of the Month

Bornstein Seafoods, a family owned company that's been operating in the Pacific Northwest for over 75 years, moved to the Port of Astoria in 2006 with the completion of the first modern groundfish plant to be built on the West Coast in over 25 years! Employing over 120 people year round, Bornstein Seafoods will add another 40 jobs during the busy summer season. Whether it be salmon, sole, sardines or crab, the experienced seafood professionals at Bornsteins will process up to a dozen different species on any given day.
