Da Yang Seafood, established in 2004, is based out of Seattle, Washington. The processing plant on Pier 2 at the Port of Astoria employs a production crew of up to 80 persons for the sardine and whiting season starting in May. We export fish for bait, canning and human consumption, such as processing into fish burgers. The processing plant, located just a few hours from the fishing ground, utilizes the latest technology for grading, processing & freezing to preserve the finest quality in seafood.
